THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE IN CONGRESS.—This Committee made their report yesterday. The telegraph furnishes a synopsis of its contents. It will be seen that the evidence taken seriously implicates several members of Congress, and that the Committee recommend their expulsion. Unless they can successfully defend themselves against the charges made, we hope that the recommendation of the Committee will be adopted.

DR. KANE DYING.—Such is the purport of a depatch received from Havana, under date of the 13th inst. There is too much reason to fear that the next arrival from Havana will bring the tidings of Dr. KANE'S death. The whole country will mourn the loss of this gallant and accomplished Arctic Explorer.

The Late Treasurer.

A bill is pending in the Legislature for the relief of E. H. JANSSEN, late Treasurer of this State. This officer, as our readers may remember, is a defaulter to the amount of some $35,000. Relief is asked on two grounds; first, that he did not appropriate the missing money and therefore should not be held accountable for the theft; and second, that nothing can be recovered from his bail. We are sorry for Mr. JANSSEN and fully believe his statement that somebody else stole the money, but we cannot support his application for relief. On the contrary, we think that the law should be suffered to take its course.

Mr. JANSSEN was nominated for Treasurer, not from any special fitness for the post, but simply to catch the German vote; without which Sham Democracy in this State, is the mere ghost of a party. The experiment has cost Wisconsin $35,000, and upwards; but the lesson will be worth what it cost, if it be duly laid to heart. Mr. JANSSEN may not have used any of the missing funds himself, but the deficit is attributable to his neglect of duty, and to overlook that is to encourage a repitition of the wrong. We can conceive of no good reason why the Legislature should interfere in the premises.

Land Grants to the Michigan Rail Roads.

Michigan, like Wisconsin, received from Congress, at the last session, a munificent grant of the Public Lands, in aid of her various railroads, and the State Legislature, which has just adjourned, passed an act dividing these lands among the following named companies:

Detroit and Milwaukee;
Port Huron and Milwaukee;
Amboy, Lansing and Traverse Bay;
Flint and Pere Marquette;
Grand Rapids and Indiana;

All of the above are in the Lower Peninsula. The following are in the Upper Peninsula, bordering on Lake Superior, viz:

Marquette and State Line;
Ontonagon and State Line;
Bay DeNoquet and Marquette;
Marquette and Ontonagon.

The lands to be apportioned among these several companies, amount, in the aggregate, to between three and four millions of acres. Wisconsin has a direct interest in four of the lines; to wit, the Detroit and Milwaukee, Port Huron and Milwaukee, Marquette and State Line and Ontonagon and State Line. These roads will connect with our Wisconsin system and thus make us sharers in the benefits derived from the grants.

THE SPOILS-DISTRIBUTING CAUCUS.—The Janesville Standard, a zealous Barstow organ, comes up promptly to the rescue of the Legislative "Star Chamber," and while warmly endorsing the recommendations of this secret midnight conclave, reads out of the party those democratic papers which have dared to oppose the caucus decrees. Hear it:

It is false, and we care not what paper makes the assertion—whether it be a Black Republican sheet, or one having the form of a wolf, dressed in sheep's clothing—when the assertion is made that Gov. Barstow "has blighted, if not destroyed the Democratic party of this State;" and it is susceptible of proof, that his enemies, who claim to belong to the Democratic party, are alone responsible for the minority position which the party occupies in this State to-day. Grant that the recommendations made by the Legislative caucus at Madison, are all favorable to men who are friends of Gov. Barstow. What bug-bear is there in this?

None at all, certainly, if the premises of the Standard be correct. But the prevailing impression, even in the ranks of democracy, is, that Barstow and the Balance" were the millstone that weighed down the party.

☞ We do not think there ever was a legislature, so caucus ridden. It is indeed doubtful whether they can do anything out of caucus. The work must be cut out there; each man taught his lesson, or there can be no action. —News, of yesterday.

The News protests against the Republicans in the Legislature, meeting in caucus and consulting about measures of which they must bear the responsibility. It entirely approves, however, similar consultations on the part of the Democrats, to dictate to Mr. BUCHANAN what appointments he shall make for Wisconsin. Caucusing, according to the News, is all right for the minority, but all wrong for the majority. Consistent News!

Slavery to be Propagated by the General Government.

"But there is nothing impracticable in the idea of preserving an equilibrium of strength between the sections in the Senate, and so arming the South with a power of vote on illegal and oppressive legislation against its rights and institutions. To this end nothing is necessary but to revert to the general policy of the government, and for every new free State to demand an equivalent accession of strength to the South. This policy is so fair and equal, that no reasonable man can oppose it, and it can hardly fail to command the North. In the event, however, of factious resistance, the South has the power to compel the concession of its demands."—Richmond Enquirer.

Such is the programme of the South, shadowed forth by the Richmond Enquirer, the leading organ of Southern "democracy." For every Free State added to the Union, there must be a Slave State to match. What a glorious prospect for the spread of "Free Institutions!" What a creditable policy for the leading republic of the world! What a beautiful illustration of genuine "Democracy!" How the friends of Equal Rights, Popular Liberty and Human Progress, must delight in such democracy!

MUNIFICENT DONATION.—The Baltimore papers report that Mr. Peabody has donated $200,000 for the establishment of an Institution in that city to embrace a free Library, Musical Academy and Picture Gallery; the donation to be increased hereafter to half a million dollars.

FROM MADISON.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MADISON, Feburary 18.

This being the last day for new business, a large number of bills have been introduced in the two Houses,—48 in Assembly, and the last bill, I believe, numbers 406.

The Printing Committee have reported back the State printer's bill, which was originally about $17,500, cutting it down some $6,300, a material reduction, based on alleged overcharges.

The Judiciary Committee in Assembly to-day reported back the bill for the enlargement of the Capitol. It will be remembered that this bill provides for but a small draft on the General Fund, the estimated cost of the improvement being about $100,000, which is to be obtained from $50,000 of bonds which the city of Madison proposes to issue, $25,000 from the School and Swamp Land Funds, which departments call for increased accommodations, vaults, &c.,—and the balance from the sale of the Capitol Lands.—The Committee make no material change in the bill, and recommend its passage.

The matter of special interest during the day was that which occupied the Assembly all of the time after 11 o'clock A. M., being the

PERSONAL LIBERTY BILL,

Which was the special order for that time.—It will be remembered that the bill came over till to-day on a special agreement by a considerable number of the democrats that they should interpose no factious resistance to a direct vote. How well they kept the agreement, will be seen.

The pending question was the amendment reported by the Judiciary Committee, providing that the State shall pay the expenses of persons who are prosecuted for infringements of the Fugitive Slave Law. Mr. Horn spoke alternately in favor and against, according as the whim, and party feeling seized upon him.

Moses M. Strong spoke in favor of the amendment, insisting that it was right as a consequence of the bill; and he gave the cue to the democrats, who thenceforward voted for this amendment, with the intention of making the bill odious, besides trying a good many experiments of that sort on their own account.

Mr. Hutchinson, Republican, spoke against the amendment. He favored the bill as it came from the Senate, and was for making it strong enough to be entirely efficient; but having provided the law, he was for leaving our citizens to seek their remedy under it, and did not think the State was called upon to pay their law expenses in civil suits.

Mr. Lovell held that since the Federal Government interposed its sword and purse to aid the prosecution, the State should interpose in defence.

Mr. Hutchinson moved to strike out the clause: This proposition was discussed further by Messrs. Hutchinson, in favor, and Mills and Noggle against, the latter rather questioning the Republicanism of those who opposed it. The motion to strike out failed, few of the Republicans voting aye, and about all the democrats voting No, according to the policy adopted by them.

FRED HORN PROPOSES AN AMENDMENT.

Mr. Horn proposed an amendment, to the effect that the clause "should not apply to any person who had collected enough of the people of the State to pay his expenses." He proceeded with a smart speech, exhibiting what he thought the inconsistency of the Republicans, now being so strongly in favor of State rights, when only a short time since they surrendered them to the U. S. Senate, in the election of Judge Doolittle. The amendment failed, of course.

MR. REYNERT PROPOSES A SUBSTITUTE.

Mr. Reymert, once a Whig, now a "Democrat," proposed a substitute for the whole bill, enacting that the Fugitive Slave Law is a binding, valid act, which ought to be obeyed till the U. S. Courts pronounce it void. (This was its substance.) This was ruled out of order and

THE VOTE WAS TAKEN

On the Judiciary Committee's amendment, which was carried, 63 to 28. Among the Noes were Messrs. Barron, Dean, Foster, Hayward, Hutchinson, Maxson, Sawyer, Tenney and Wentworth, Republicans. Nearly all of the democrats voted Aye.

Mr. Reymert now renewed his motion to substitute, and, this pending, the House adjourned for dinner.

At 2½ P. M. the muss was renewed with a call of the House. Proceedings under the call being dispensed with after a time, Messrs. Horn and Hastings having meanwhile a little turn over the demerits and merits of S. M. Booth.

MR. ALLEN MOVED TO RECONSIDER

The vote adopting the amendment of the Committee. He said that he had voted for it doubtfully, and now, after further consideration, thought it his duty to go against it, while he favored the bill without the amendment. He had felt somewhat hurt by Mr. Noggle's remarks, as he thought himself a thorough Republican.

Mr. Hutchinson hoped the motion would prevail, and that those who thought the amendment wrong would not be compelled to swallow it.—Mr. Mills spoke against the motion, and succeeded in

RAISING A BUBBUB

Among the democracy, by insisting, quite pointedly, that Mr. Horn, who was asking that Mr. Janssen should be released from the penalty of letting his fellow democrats steal the cash, did not look well in the attitude which he took to-day. That shoe pinched dreadfully.

Mr. Tenny also spoke in favor of the motion, but the re-consideration was refused by 25 to 60, the Ayes showing Messrs. Allen, Anunson, Barron, Cameron, Davison, Dean, Foster, Geo. Hawley, Hayward, Hutchinson, Langworthy, Maxson, Ostrander, Robbins, Rood, Sawyer, Tenney and Wentworth, all Republicans, to be in favor,—the democrats nearly all going against.

Now came Mr. Reymert's substitute. Mr. Mills proposed to insert the word "constitutional," and this was accepted by Mr. Reymert. Then Mr. Lovell, to put the Democrats on the record more clearly, proposed an amendment "repealing the decision of the Supreme Court;," and this was carried. Then came the vote. Mr. Thomas faltered, and suggested that he would like a division of the question. Cries of "Take the whole dose!" "No wry faces!" and now

SEE WHAT THE DEMOCRATS BELIEVE IN!

The vote for Mr. Reymert's substitute was 25 to 58, the ayes all Democrats and the noes all Republicans, but Messrs Conkey, Fagan, Hotchkiss and J. White.

So the Wisconsin democracy believe that the Fugitive Slave Law is a constitutional, valid, binding law and ought to be obeyed.

The discussion of the merits of the bill was further continued by Messrs. Earnest, very earnestly against, Mr. Hall for, Mr. Lovell for, and Mr. Hastings for. This portion of the discussion was quite interesting, but I have no space to sketch it.

Several motions were made by democrats to embarrass the bill, and were voted down, and at last the

PREVIOUS QUESTION WAS ORDERED.

Mr. Barron asked, that he might explain. He should feel obliged to vote against the bill, with the amendment, though he desired to vote for it, as it came from the Senate.

THE BILL ORDERED ENGROSSED.

The vote was taken, and the bill ordered engrossed, 56 to 29, the Ayes being all Republicans but Mr. Fagan, and the noes all democrats, but Mr. Barron, who was thus the only Republican, who held to the last to his consistency. Let not his position be misunderstood.

Shortly after, Mr. Lovell moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill. Mr. Strong moved to adjourn,—lost. Then Mr. Strong waxed rather angry, and proposed to stay till midnight; but on Mr. Lovell's reminding the democracy of their agreement yesterday to make no factious resistance, which was reluctantly confessed by several democrats, Mr. Strong was appeased, and the vote was taken, and by the same vote as on the engrossment.

THE BILL PASSED

There is doubt whether the amendment passes the Senate.

Twilight Musings.

In the stillness of the twilight,
In the evening's golden prime,
Cometh sweetly—o'er me stealing,
Memories of the olden time.

Dearest olden time, thou comest
Now so clearly back to me,
That I cannot tell if really,
I have gone so far from thee—

Oh! my merry blightsome childhood!
Ev'ry zestless—on the wing
Sportive, 'twas as gayest b'rding,
Skipping through the trees in spring.

Swift the days flew—I, regardless,
How with arrow-speed they went,
While a change I ne'er had thought of;
A maiden's heart to me was sent.

Then a deep-toned voice was ringing
Sweetest music in my ears,
And a manly form was by me;
Mine to be through future years.

Waxed arms are now entwining,
Baby voices greet mine ear;
And I wonder now—if ever
Olden times were half so dear.

MRS. A. T. C.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 15th, 1857.

NEW YORK TOWN ELECTIONS.—In St. Lawrence County, the Republicans carry 25 towns, and the Know-Nothings, with the help of the Sham Democracy, 3 towns. In Tioga, the Republicans carry 7 out of 10 towns. In Delaware the Republicans carry 6 towns, the Sham Democracy 5, the Know-Nothings 2, and the Democratic and K. N. allies 2. From Lewis County, the Rome Sentinel (dem.) has the following:

MARTINSBURGH, Feb. 12.

Ed. Rome Sentinel:—Thirteen towns in Lewis county elect 6 Republicans, five Democrats, one Old Line Whig and one American. Both of the latter were the candidates of the Democrats, and will act with them in opposition to the Republican party.

Here, as elsewhere, the Democrats "fuse" readily and naturally with Silver-Grey Whigs and proscriptive Know-Nothings.

WHAT CHICAGOANS THINK OF MILWAUKEE.—A correspondent of the Chicago Herald, writing under date of February 12 from Milwaukee, says:

The more I see of this town, the better I like it. My present opinion is that it is the finest town in all the west, and the present prospects are (all things considered, in a business point of view, in the future) that it will keep pace with Chicago. Rents are not as extravagant as in your city; the town is, therefore, more inviting to men of limited capital, and for a residence it is still more inviting.

A true bill. We do not know the city in the West which offers so many attractions, as a residence and place of business, to men of capital enterprise and refinement, as Milwaukee.

ANOTHER PROTEST AGAINST THE SECRET CAUCUS.—The Mineral Point Democrat, thus enters its protest against the action of the Legislative "Star Chamber," which has undertaken to usurp the functions of the Federal executive:

We have no particular objection to the persons named, but we cannot say that we are ready to yield our preferences to the dictation of any class of gentlemen who may choose to assemble together, nor can it be expected of others. The action of the caucus, in our opinion, will be a positive damage to the gentlemen thus recommended, but it is not improbable that some of the persons thus marked out for general opposition, may succeed over all.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT BURLINGTON, IOWA.—A fire broke out at Burlington, Iowa, on the 14th instant, and before it could be subdued, destroyed the Dry Goods and Grocery Store of Kimball & Co, the stove and tin store of J. W. & C. A. White, and a block of wooden tenements occupied as clothing, harness, shoe and grocery stores. Total loss not far from $75,000, on which there was insurance to the amount of $45,000.

STORE RENTS IN NEW YORK.—The Independent says that the following are the current rates of store rent in New York city, at the present items:—

|---|---|---|
| Marble..... | 25 x 100 | $8,000 to $10,000 |
| Brown stone | 25 x 100 | 7,000 9,000 |
| Marble..... | 25 x 150 | 12,000 15,000 |
| Brown stone | 25 x 150 | 10,000 13,000 |

BRIDGE GONE.—The Janesville Free Press, of yesterday, says:

Fifty or sixty feet of the bridge at Montery was carried away yesterday morning. A portion of the remainder will undoubtedly go out as the river is rapidly rising. This will render the building of a new bridge absolutely necessary.

PERSONAL.—We understand that the Hon. James R. Doolittle, Senator elect from this State, leaves this city for Washington to day.—Racine Advocate, Feb. 18th.

Correspondence of the Cincinnatti Gazette.

Hogs and Crops in Kentucky.

TILTON, Fleming, Co., Ky., Feb. 12.

We have had thus far in Northern Kentucky a severe winter, causing a great destruction amongst stock hogs in the mountain counties, where many thousand had been driven in the fall to winter on mast. It is estimated that some 30,000 perished in the month of January alone, occasioned from depth of snow, intense cold and hunger.

Contracts are making for April and May delivery, at 4½ and 5 cents for stock hogs; and fat, November delivery, $4,25 to 4,60 per hundred pounds.

AN EDITOR ON THE TRACK.—The senior editor of the Westmoreland Co. (Pa.) Democrat visited Pittsburg last week. He intended to return home on the 8½ train, but delayed his departure for the depot till a few minutes before the time, and then started on a run. On turning the corner of Sixth and Smithfield streets, he met a lady with a "sweet German accent," of magnificent proportions, and with a well-filled market basket on her arm. The effect of the collision was to turn the lady heels over head and scatter the contents of the market basket, while the editor went straight on until he stood upon the platform of the station, just in time to be too late, for the train was moving along about one hundred yards up the street. "You can make it yet, stranger," was the suggestion, of a by stander, and away he went. "Go it, stranger, you're a gaining on her," yelled an excited retail apple merchant, and the stranger went. Faster went the train, and faster went our editor, and he was "gaining on her." "Git stranger," was the cry of the friend, "you're a gainin' on her," and stranger got." Men, women and children stopped to see the chase, for by this time the stranger was fairly excited, and showed no disposition to give it up. One, two miles are left behind, and still the chase is kept up. Gradually the stranger kept 'gainin on her." For the next mile it was "whip and tuck"—the train a little ahead. When within about a mile of East Liberty it was hard to tell which would come out ahead; but had it not been for the voluntary and gratuitous suggestion of a man passing that way that he was "a d——d fool, for he'd never ketch her," we rather think that stranger would have made it. His ardor weakened however, by the suggestion, he quietly gave up the chase and walked back to Pittsburg in time to take the express train, which departs at half-past nine, P. M.

DOGBERT THE CORONER.—The way in which Coroner Connery, of New York, has conducted the Burdell inquest, had excited indignation and contempt. The Evening Post relates the following concerning the worthy "Coroner."—It seems that he was recently holding an inquest upon the body of an Irishman killed by an Italian. During the investigation he examined the Italian, who did not understand a word of English, when the following colloquy took place:

Coroner—Do you speak English?

Italian—[Demonstrations either that he did not understand English, or the question, or both]

Cor.—Do you speak German?

Ital.—Same demonstrations as before.

Cor.—Do you speak French?

Ital.—Same demonstrations.

Cor.—Do you speak Spanish?

Ital.—Demonstrations as before.

Cor.—Do you speak Latin?

Ital.—Same demonstrations.

Cor.—[Expanding excitingly.] There, gentlemen of the jury, you see I have addressed him in five different languages, and he does not understand one.

A FAIR HIT.—It will be remembered that W. Gilmore Simms, L. L. D., of South Carolina, came North on a lectoring tour, but at New York he took offense at the empty benches and "deserted halls," and went home in a huff. He left behind him many engagements to lecture before lyceums, &c., and among others one in Hartford. Mr. Simm's place was supplied by Phillio, who "touched up" the peevish Southerner in the following lines:

Ah, luckless me! A task that Hercules
Never dared attempt, I must perform to please,
The labor's mine to plug the hollow pole,
And fill at least a part of Simm's Hole.

From the N. Y. Papers of Feb. 16.

THE BURDELL MURDER.

CONCLUSION OF THE INQUEST.

Verdict of the Jury.

The Coroner arrived at about half-past eleven o'clock A. M. Saturday, and brought in a manuscript of portentous size, which the reporters were given to understand was his summing up of the case, or charge to the jury. The document, the Coroner said, would be given to the press at the proper time for publication in all the newspapers.

Capt. Isaiah Rynders visited the house this morning, and with others was allowed to go up stairs and look at the rooms. While in the room above, the Captain began to speak of the evidence in the case, and made some remarks in derogation of the course pursued by young Snodgrass. Some one remarked that Snodgrass was then in the room and then pointed him out.

The gallant Captain then turned upon Snodgrass, and told him that he knew more about the murder than he was willing to testify to, and making other accusations in so abusive a manner that the officer in charge of him deemed it necessary to take Snodgrass to another room.

At twelve o'clock the Coroner directed the officers to clear the jury room of all but the jury and reporters, and then proceeded with the inquest.

Coroner—I had supposed that we should take no further testimony; but, from information received yesterday, I consider it right and just that I should act upon that information, and I will, therefore, examine two or three more witnesses. I was called upon yesterday by five or six gentlemen, who state that they can give an excellent character to Farrell, and a Mr. Haley said he could produce two men to swear that he was a drunkard, &c. Knowing what belongs to the court over which I preside—that this is not a court of defence—that the time and opportunity will subsequently be afforded to all these persons who wish to contest character, after an investigation.

The jury has nothing to do but to find out who was the perpetrator of the murder. We ultimately submit their decision to the Grand Jury and District Attorney for the future action of the law. Call George Vail Snodgrass.

George Vail Snodgrass was recalled:

Coroner—You have heretofore been sworn, and are still under the binding obligation of that oath.

Q. Did you recently go out with Mrs. Cunningham to buy a dirk, dagger or sword-cane? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you recently buy a dagger or sword-cane yourself? A. No sir.

Coroner—That is all I have to ask.

The answers of Snodgrass were made in the most emphatic tone and manner.

MARGARET ADMIST'S TESIMONY.

I live at 590 Broadway; about two or three days before Dr. Burdell was murdered I saw a man whom I since recognized as George Vail Snodgrass; he came to our place and bought a sword cane; he objected to one that it was not strong enough; he bought an old one for eight dollars.

The witness told a long story of the manner in which she recognized Snodgrass, since she came to the house. She swore positively that he was the man. A dagger was shown the witness, which she said had the same blade as the one she sold to Snodgrass. She afterwards said it was like the blade. The dagger had a straight strong blade about six inches long.

Snodgrass was at this time absent from the room. The Coroner went out, leaving the witness in conversation with the jurors. When he returned he said to the witness:—

"Now, madam, go to that door, (the folding doors between the front and back parlors) and see if you can recognize any one!"

The witness went to the door where Snodgrass was standing in a crowd of twenty or thirty persons, and at once pointed out Snodgrass with a cane, exclaiming, "That is the man!"

Coroner—Captain Dilks, you will take Mr. Snodgrass into custody—here is your warrant.

The witness was further examined by Judge Capron. She is a German woman and speaks broken English; she said at the time Snodgrass bought the knife, she remarked him particularly on account of his rough manner; the other bills in payment which they closely scrutinized to see if they were good; he said, very roughly, "Are you satisfied now? are they good?" She remarked at the time, that he had not long been away from his father's house, he spoke so rough. Witness' store is below Bond street, and when Snodgrass came out he went up Broadway. He wore at that time a light moustache, but to-day he has none. The witness said, "I knowed him just when I came up stairs."

EVIDENCE OF AGNES SMITH.

Agnes Smith, an intelligent lady, sworn: My place of business is at 590 Broadway, (the same establishment where the previous witness was employed.) I have just been at the 13th Ward station house and seen George Vail Snodgrass. I remember his face, but cannot swear to his coming into our store to buy a dagger. I remember a young man's coming in and talking roughly. I remember a young man speaking impatiently because I examined the bills he presented. I think this young man had a light dress; I should say this young man whom they call Snodgrass looks like the one I saw in our store; but I cannot swear to its being the same. My eyesight is poor, but I saw the gentleman near enough. Mrs. Aldiset, the previous witness, made the sale; I only noticed him when he said, "do you suppose I would give you bad money?" The dagger then sold had a plated handle; it was what we call a "thin point"—raised a little in the middle; the price was eight dollars. This occurrence was either Tuesday or Wednesday of the week previous to the murder; I think it was between four and five o'clock, P. M.; I might recognize the dagger if I saw it; it was a little clumsy in the handle, and Mrs. Aldiset remarked, "I have sold the dagger I have had so long;" we had only two of that kind of daggers in the store. I was in the back-room sewing when Mrs. Aldiset received the money from this gentleman, and called me out; I have seen the dagger shown here; it is as near like the one sold then as can be

The Coroner now called for Dr. Woodward, but he was not present.

An officer was sent for Miss Isabella Banford, the witness who swore that a man and woman called at her place of business to buy a sword cane, and thought that the lady resembled Mrs. Cunningham. Miss Banford will be confronted with Snodgrass to see if she can recognize him as one of the couple.

The Coroner was waiting for her at half-past one o'clock.

The business of the inquest was resumed shortly after three o'clock, pursuant to the adjourned.

EVIDENCE OF MRS. BURDELL.

Mrs. Adelaine Louisa Burdell, a sister-in-law of the late Harvey Burdell, was called for, and brought into the apartment under escort of an officer. She was accompanied by a lady friend.

Her evidence was unimportant. She could not give any account of the Doctor's whereabouts later that Thursday, and knew of his troubles in his house only by hearsay.

The Coroner then read a long, prosy charge, recapitulating the evidence. After which the Jury retired at 4.45 P. M.

THE TESTIMONY OF FARRELL CORROBORATED.

Information was here given to the Coroner that the witness was present who saw Farrell standing on the stoop of the house.

Coroner—I wish to announce to you, gentlemen—particularly of the press—that the gentleman has arrived here who will testify to the Jury that he saw the witness "Farrell" sitting on the steps on the night of the murder.

Capt. Dilks—His name is "D. C. Walker, No. 91 Horatio street."

The witness was conducted up stairs to the Jury and sworn and examined by them, but no reporters were admitted.

I live at No. 91 Horatio street; I am a physician, passed through Bond street on the night of Dr. Burdell's murder; it was Friday night; it was between 10½ and 11 o'clock; I observed a man sitting on the steps of Dr. Burdell's house; I did not observe him particularly; I am sure there was a man sitting on the steps; I heard a man order him off; the man who ordered him off was at the door; he was inside the door; I did not see him so as to enable me to know him again.

After the Jury had retired, Dr. G. F. Woodward was sworn by the Coroner and entered their room to testify to the Jurors that he had been handed the dagger produced in Court during the day, and which was similar in all respects to the one purchased by Snodgrass; that it was handed to him for the purpose of ascertaining whether it could produce wounds similar to those on the body of the deceased; that for this purpose he had tried it on a dead body, and found the wounds produced similar in all respects, as well on the body as on the clothing.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

The Jury remained out from 4.45 P. M. until 10½ P. M.

The suspense was at length relieved. Capt. Dilkes entered the room and ordered the jurors' seats to be cleared. The buzz of excited conversation was at once renewed. The jurors entered, evidently much exhausted. Silence ensued in an instant. The Deputy Coroner called over the roll, and each juror answered to his name.

Coroner—Gentleman, have you agreed upon your verdict?

Foreman—Yes, Sir.

Coroner—Read it.

Mr. Hall read as follows:

THE VERDICT.

State of New York, City and County of New York, ss.—An inquisition taken at the house of the late Dr. Harvey Burdell, No. 31 Bond-street, in the Fifteenth Ward in the City of New York, in the County of New York, this 14th day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, before Edward D. Connery, of the city and county aforesaid, on view of the body of said Harvey Burdell, lying dead at No. 31 Bond street aforesaid, upon the oaths and affirmations of twelve good and lawful men of the State of New York, duly chosen and sworn or affirmed and charged to inquire on behalf of said people how and in what manner the said Harvey Burdell came to his death, do, upon their oaths and affirmations, say that the said Harvey Burdell on the 30th day of January, 1857, at No. 31 Bond street aforesaid, was feloniously murdered, and came to his death by being stabbed in various parts of his body with a dagger or other sharp instrument; and the jurors believe from the evidence, and therefore find, that Emma Augusta Cunningham and John J. Eckel were principals in the commission of said murder.

And the jurors aforesaid further find that George Vail Snodgrass either joined the said Emma Augusta Cunningham and John J. Eckel in the commission of said murder, or was accessory thereto before the fact, counselling, aiding or abetting the said Emma Augusta Cunningham and John J. Eckel to commit the said murder; and the jurors aforesaid further find that Augusta Cunningham and Helen Cunningham, daughters of the said Emma Augusta Cunningham, being in the house No. 31 Bond street aforesaid, where the said murder was committed, have some knowledge of the facts connected with the said murder, which they have concealed from the Jury, and that it is the duty of the Coroner to hold them for the future action of the Grand Jury. In witness whereof, we, the said jurors, as well as the Coroner, have to this inquisition set our hands and seals on the day and place aforesaid.

The verdict was received with obvious satisfaction by the audience.

From the New York Tribune.

MR. SNODGRASS.

George Vail Snodgrass was conveyed to the Tombs yesterday afternoon. He seems to have laid aside his dwil may-care manner; and realizes that he has got himself into a serious scrape. That he purchased the dagger he most emphatically denies, and he feels assured that she, the woman who swore that he did, will prove to have been altogether mistaken in his identity. He says that when he gets clear of this affair it will be a lesson to him which he will certainly profit by. Mr. Snodgrass is confined in the third corridor of the male prison, above Mr. Eckel. His cheerfulness seems to have departed with his banjo and his liberty.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM AND ECKEL.

The conduct of the above personages does not differ in the least from that of any other murderer in prison. Mrs. Cunningham expresses the utmost confidence in eventually getting clear; and as soon as she effects this, she will forthwith commence a suit against the New York Herald for libel.

Mr. Eckel willingly entered into conversation on the all engrossing topic. He said he was very comfortable, and seemed marvelously calm and self-possessed for a man charged with the heinous crime of murder. His meals are sent in from a restaurant, and he has the privilege of a light at night if he wishes it.

Newspapers, cigars and other luxuries are allowed him, and he says that with one exception he has experienced none but the kindest treatment. He admitted that the circumstantial evidence against the family was rather weighty, but he asserted his entire innocence and his full belief that the others now charged with the crime would be proved innocent.

Notice Extraordinary!

WE WOULD NOTIFY the merchants and the public generally in the Western States that the Match Manufactory of R. W. PIERCE & CO., Milwaukee, Wis., is in full and successful operation, notwithstanding the declarations of a match concern in Detroit, Mich., that our establishment had burned down—that R. W. PIERCE & Co. had failed—that no more R. W. PIERCE'S matches would be seen in market, &c. &c. We are well aware that all such assertions will in due time recoil with bad effect upon the party who originated them, and what we wish is, that the public should be set right in the matter. We now have facilities for manufacturing matches as cheap, or cheaper than any other establishment in the West, and as to the quality, we will leave those who have used them for the last thirteen years to be the judges, and will only remark that our business has increased from less than $1000, in 1845, to more than $80,000, in 1856.

All orders for matches promptly filled.

INSTRUCTION.

SALOM'S MERCANTILE COLLEGE!

A Perpetual Ticket for $25!

GENTLEMEN desirous of acquiring a thorough Mercantile Education, are assured that the advantages presented at this institution are unsurpassed.

The Principal takes this opportunity to acknowledge the courtesy of several of the most distinguished Shipping and Jobbing Houses in the East, who recently allowed him to examine their books, besides explaining many original plans for economizing labor, which, adopted as in some instances after the experience of half a century, may be justly designated the no plus ultra of this art.

These advantages, grafted upon Mr. SALOM'S long practical experience in a variety of Counting Houses, have enabled him to elaborate a novel and valuable series of transactions, introducing all the great heads and ramifications of mercantile routine to be actually developed by the student. A perpetual ticket confers the privilege of instruction in Book-Keeping as all times, as well as in Penmanship, Mercantile Calculations, Law, Correspondence Forms, &c.

The Surveying and Mathematical department is in progress during the day and evening.

BAYLIES & LINCOLN'S

Milwaukee Commercial College

212 and 214 East Water St.,

MILWAUKEE, - - WISCONSIN.

THE proprietors of the Milwaukee Commercial College would respectfully announce that the liberal patronage that has been extended to this deservedly popular enterprise has led them to extend the field of study, so that it will embrace every branch of a thorough Commercial Education. As there are no classes formed in any department of study—thereby enabling the student to enter any time, each one receiving separate instructions)—the student, on entering, is placed in the Counting Room, with actual transactions to work from, thus making his education not a theoretical, but practical to the last degree. The Commercial Course comprises Book-Keeping by Double Entry, in its various forms, as adapted to Wholesale, Retail, Commission, Manufacturing, Custom House, Banking, Railroading, in stock partnership, and compound Company business, Commercial Calculations in per centage, Exchange, Bank and Regular Discounts, Averaging, Accounts by Simple and Compound Equations, &c., according to the most approved methods. Commercial Correspondence, including account sales, account currents, drafts, bills of exchange, &c., &c.

Also, a perfect system of detecting Counterfeit Bank Notes, will be given to each student.

A good Hand Writing guaranteed to every person completing a full course.

During the Seasons, lectures on Commercial Law will be delivered by eminent legal and business men, and it will be so arranged as to suit the convenience of those who are engaged during the day, and will be open to all students.

Penmanship and other branches taught by accomplished teachers.

The Reading Room will be supplied with the various Daily and other papers and publications.

Particular attention will be given to Ladies who may wish to acquire a business education, and separate rooms have been beautifully fitted up for their use.

Every Man his own Miller.

PORTABLE CAST IRON GRAIN MILL.

Young America Improved and Perfected.

THE above mill was patented by Charles Leaver, of Ellington, 27th, 1856. This mill took the first premium at the Ohio State Fair, 1856, over all other mills, and during the fairs of the fall of 1856, the first premium over many others at the State Fair of Ohio, New York, Tennessee, Michigan and Minnesota, also, at the County Fairs of the following Counties of Ohio and Indiana, viz: Guernsey, Crawford, Logan, Medina, Ashland, Wayne, Huron, Monteomery Clark, Preble, Lorain, Richland, Plymouth district, Chester, Fredericsh, in Indiana, Tipcanoe, Jefferson, Wayne, Fayette, Shelby, Jennings, Putnam and Franklin.

Farmers, Saw Mill owners, Livery Stable men and all others feeding stock of any kind are invited to examine the merits and superior advantages of the above grain mill.

The Young America will grind as much corn in the cob, shelled corn, oats, barley, and all other grains for stock as any mill of the same size and with much less draft.

What we claim is great strength, durability and simplicity, being so simple that a child can learn to grind with safety.

In the next we claim, the small expense to renew the grinding parts of the mill, and the ease with which the grinders are put on the mill, at a cost of not over three dollars, which makes it superior and more economical than any other mill. The grinding parts of the above mill are made of the hardest of cast iron, as hard in fact as cast steel can be tempered. Each set will grind from 500 to 1,000 bushels of grain, with proper wear. Besides a set of grinders on the mill, an extra set will be sent with each mill sold, making it equal to two common mills. When found necessary to change the grinders, a moment's time can do it in a few minutes.

As a proof of the estimation in which the Young America is held in Ohio, we would state that during the fall, winter and opening of 1856, 2,000 were made and sold in Ohio, Zanesville, by Douglas Smith & Co., Hall & Allen, of Mansfield, Aldridge & Faucener of Cincinnati, and at New Philadelphia.

As the time there is not less than 900 being sold every week in Ohio at retail, besides those sold in other states east and west.

The above mill is being manufactured and can be furnished at wholesale and retail, from the Wisconsin Iron Works of A. J. Langworthy, on the water power in the City of Milwaukee. The mill is warranted perfect in all respects.

Dealers in agricultural implements and machines, of the State of Wisconsin, are requested to call and make arrangements for the sale of the above mill. A liberal discount will be made on the retail price to those also any others wishing to engage in a profitable business. Would call attention to good men, who have teams in any part of the State, who would peddle the mills through the country. Four can be taken on a wagon at a time—liberal arrangements would be made with them.

The above mill will grind from 5 to 30 bushels of grain per hour, in accordance with the kind and condition of the grain.

Price of the Young America $55—ready to hitch to and warranted to grind as fast as any mill of the same size when properly worked, and with less draft.

For further information address or see the undersigned, sole owner of the right to the State of Wisconsin.

WOULD SUGGEST to the Trade, that they will be prepared, for Spring sales with their usual large assortment of the finer qualities of

In reference to which, they would suggest, that the facility with which their goods can be fitted, every garment being marked in lengths and breadths, the same size breast being varied to suit different proportions of the same measurement, should give them the preference over double the sizes of which are inaccurately marked. The difficulty of readily suiting parties from that fact, it is presumed, has been very generally realized. JAS. PYLE'S DIETETIC SALERATUS.

THIS article is deprived of the caustic impurities, so well known to exist in all common saleratus, thereby dealing destruction to thousands unaware of its injurious qualities. So destructive is it to the constitution of children, that where they and the parents have been regular consumers of Saleratus Bread, there is but little chance for recovery from infantile or contagious diseases, in this way thousands meet with premature Death—the sad reality of which is forcibly demonstrated, in the more fatally among children, in the New England and other States, where warm bread and cake is so generally consumed.

JAS. PYLE'S DIETETIC SALERATUS

Is of vast importance to the public, and is rapidly coming into use. Being deprived of all caustic impurities, it is quite as harmless as flour.
